

Respectfully urge you not to dilute New Jersey's Do Not Call List. I value my privacy and resent being called by solicitors for all kinds of unwanted junk. In fact, even New Jersey's law is already too lenient. My telephone is my private property and means of communications with whomever I want to communicate with, not telephone slammers, charities and obnoxious peddlers of all kinds who invade my privacy at all hours.